Official Letter of Recognition for Paula Haapalahti

Dear Paula Haapalahti,

It's been an honor to show your work as part of the Art Takes Miami exhibition.

Your work was on view on December 7th, 2014 at:

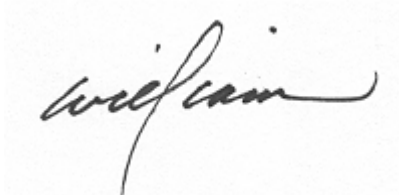

SCOPE Art Miami
1001 Ocean Drive
Miami Beach, FL 33139

Without question, the act of creation has always been a historical marker; a civilization's culture is judged first and foremost by the art left behind. Just as archaeologists offer hypotheses about ancient societies based on cave paintings, historians of the future will base their conjectures about us on the contemporary art that is happening at this very moment.

As technology makes our world more interconnected, the act of creation has become a universal language and a vital conversation. Your art, represented at the fifth annual Art Takes Miami exhibition is a thrilling contribution to that dialogue.

Thank you for sharing your talent with us and with the world.

Sincerely,
